

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A method of personalizing icon on electronic communication product, comprising the steps of:
installing an image processing program to an electronic communication product 5 to edit an icon;
using said image process program to select an editing icon on the electronic communication product;
reading a type for the desired effect on the editing icon;
performing a corresponding compensation, adjustment, and editing onto the 10 original icon according to said type for the desired effect; and replacing the original icon with the edited icon for the display.
2. The method of personalizing icon on electronic communication product of claim 1, wherein said editing icon is compressed and converted into a gray-scale icon, and said gray-scale icon is adjusted and compensated with three corresponding 15 resultant values of the spaces of a red, a green, and a blue icon according to a mapping function.
3. The method of personalizing icon on electronic communication product of claim 1, wherein said selected icon is selected by connecting an input device to the electronic communication product.
- 20 4. The method of personalizing icon on electronic communication product of claim 1, wherein said electronic communication product includes a handheld computer selected from the collection of a handset and a personal digital assistance.